Who will be teaching you?

Angela White FKAIA CD^A, OB^A, Beh^A, Cert Ed, MSET. ☛

Courses are devised and created by Angela White KCAI, unless otherwise stated. Angela White is the Founder of IABTC and has over 40 years of experience in dog training, behaviour and teaching. For many years she was a senior lecturer in behaviour and training and wrote the first-ever higher education programme in Canine Behaviour and Training. She is a founder member and Fellow of the Kennel Club Accreditations Scheme for Instructors and Behaviourists (KCAI).

Angela competed in competitive obedience for many years getting up to qualification in Test C before easing off to concentrate on her role as Editor of two dog Magazines while running a thriving training centre, kennels and dog training equipment manufacturing company. She has also dabbled in many dog sports and has trained a range of breeds giving her a vast range of knowledge. She now specialises in teaching people how to become dog training instructors and behaviourists.

☛ Diane Rhodes BSc Hons, MEd, RGN

PGCE, TDLB, Lt QARANC (Ret). Diploma in Canine Behaviour Modification. IABTC Advanced Accredited Instructor, Clicker and Target Level 4 (Instructor) and Search Dog Handler Accredited Diploma.

Di has owned dogs for over 30 years, she currently has 3. She started training at IABTC after getting her third German Shepherd she entered just a few obedience shows and won out of pre beginners in Obedience and continued to test A. She has competed in Rally and one of her dogs (Pip, a Jack Russell) being part of the Northern Rally Team at Crufts 2019. Purdy Di's GSD is a Therapy Dog working in hospital occupational therapy departments. Di's special areas of interest for research, study and teaching are Brain and Behaviour and Scent Work

Karen Holmes KPACTP ☛

IABTC Advanced Accredited Instructor. Clicker and Target Level 4 (Instructor). Member of ABTC (Animal Behaviour Training Council). Accredited Instructor KCAI Clicker & Target Training.

Karen is a Certified Training Partner of the Karen Pryor Academy after studying with the Academy to enhance her knowledge of Clicker Training in which she specialises.

Karen has owned dogs for 40 years plus and currently has four. They are different breeds and different ages giving her a wealth of knowledge of how to change training methods to suit different dogs and at different stages of their lives. She is also a qualified groomer.

Karen teaches a wide range of courses at IABTC.

☛ Jayne Butler

IABTC Accredited Instructor. Member KCAI and in 2021 gained accreditation from the Kennel Club and is now a KCAI (KC accredited instructor). Jayne is highly experienced in instructing all levels of the Kennel Club Good Citizen Scheme, from Puppy Foundation to Gold. She enjoys training her own dogs and attends a range of classes including Parkour Master Dog Trainer and Clicker Class. She has entered Rally obedience trials and qualified at levels one and two. She has a special interest in Carting.

Amanda Robinson ☛ IABTC Accredited Instructor. Member KCAI and like Jayne, in 2021 gained accreditation from the Kennel Club and is now a KCAI (KC accredited instructor). Amanda holds a qualification in Animal Assisted Therapy working with children and young adults who are on the Autistic spectrum and have trained dogs to aid them. She is also a registered instructor for Dog Aid. Of course, she enjoys training her own dogs and her most recent addition is Winter – a Sealyham Terrier.

Jayne and Amanda jointly hold listed status for running the KC Good Citizen test scheme at all levels and run regular sessions at IABTC.

IABTC CERTIFIED COURSES

Course Title –

IABTC Canine Behaviour, Training & Modification

We hold these units each year so if you cannot manage them all in one year you can come back and study later.

Divided into a series of units delivered via seminars and workshops with additional home study. These courses are designed for Dog Training Instructors and Behavioural Trainers who want to know more about understanding behaviour and preventing, identifying and dealing with canine behaviour problems. The units detailed below can be studied on their own if you already have an in-depth knowledge of the previous units.

All courses include learning materials and assessments with full support.

Unit 1 How Dogs Learn

2024 March 18-20 3 days plus assessment £225

Canine behavioural development stages, blocks, catalysts and influences on learning, reward and motivation, nature versus nurture, temperament testing, instinctive and innate behaviours, communication, social learning, survival instincts, natural responses, emotions, senses, social groups, the dominance and hierarchy/pack order debate.

KCAI Online assessments 3 & 4

Unit 2 Evolution and Breeds

2024 April 15-16 2 days plus assessment £150

Understanding terms – Ethology, cynology, behaviourist. Evolution and domestication - from ancient times to current breeds and influences. The wolf and its role in domestic dogs. Understanding breeds, breed-specific behaviours and psychological and physiological needs of breed, breed types and individuals.

KCAI Online assessments 3 & 4

Unit 3 Essential Solutions to Everyday Behaviour Problems

2024 May 20-22 3 days £225

Workshop with presentation, demonstration, practical and video. Everyday problems that instructors can prevent or solve. Covering: Noise, Biting, Growling, Lack of Recall, Chasing, Distraction, Mild Aggression, Excessive Pulling, Jumping Up, Stealing, Children and Dogs, Multiple Dogs, Separation, Hyper Activity, Fears and Phobias. Also proofing, generalisation, knowing your limitations, referral.

KCAI Online assessments 3 & 4 Plus aspects of practical modules

Unit 4 IABTC Instructing Pet Dog Owners

2024 June 17-20.

4 Days & assessment £299

This course is Unit 4 of our Canine Behaviour and Training Course but also stands alone as a practical course for instructors of dog training

Helping you to teach pet dog training in today's world. up-to-date ideas and techniques, with emphasis on client-centered learning, motivational training and welfare of dogs and their owners.

Open to all levels - whether you are thinking of becoming an instructor, just starting, wanting to update or just a boost of confidence and new ideas - this course is ideal.

Practical Skills for those teaching classes but teaching one to one will also be taken into consideration. It explores the knowledge, exercises, skills and equipment needed to teach others the basic control of dogs and ensure progression. It will also cover basic problems and faults, first impressions, qualities of an instructor, expectations v reality, teaching techniques and roles, how people learn, effective communication, motivation, groups, planning sessions and courses, effects of training, blocks to learning, monitoring, evaluation, and limitations on advice. Relevant business laws, legal and financial responsibilities. Professional service and provision, organisational structures, code of practice, venues, facilities, resources, health and safety, incidents and accidents, insurance, equal opportunities. Ideal for those teaching dog training in classes, clubs, dog schools or individually.

This course is a must for anyone dealing with behaviour problems to ensure that at least basic control skills can be taught.

You may bring your own dog along on these courses (although this is not compulsory). There will also be opportunities to handle other dogs (some trained - some untrained) as well as trying out your instructing skills (with the support of your course tutor where necessary) on especially invited clients – thus giving you the opportunity of working with 'real' clients as part of the course.

Some students will attend to gain more knowledge, others will hope to gain an IABTC qualification, and therefore assessment is available but not compulsory.

For students who wish to be assessed this will be ongoing throughout the week with a general assessment on the final day and an after-course assignment. Certificates will be graded depending on the level of ability at that time.

There are several levels that students can achieve with IABTC:

IABTC Pet Dog Training
Practical Competence
(Assistant Instructor((L1)

IABTC Pet Dog Training
Practical Competence
(Instructor) (L2)

IABTC Pet Dog Training
Practical Competence (L3)

IABTC Instructor Clicker &
Target Training (C&T4
Inst.)

Most people will attend on more than one occasion to build on their knowledge and gain the best from this course.

Students Returning for a refresher or higher levels join the course as normal but are given additional individualized tuition and support.

The level you go for will depend on previous experience (those with little or no experience will start at level 1).

IABTC Certified C&T Award Descriptions

There is a theory section that you work through in your own time attached to all C&T awards.

You can work through these awards by attending the sessions on the next page

You can also do them via the internet by submitting videos by email.

Your Instructors for Clicker Training:

Angela White. Di Rhodes IABTC Adv/Inst C&T4. Karen Holmes IABTC Inst. C&T3

IABTC Clicker & Target Training (IABTC /C&T1)

C&T1 looks at the basic use of clicker and target training – your ability to time your clicks accurately and effectively, shape simple desired behaviours, free shape, put behaviours under cue, extend the duration of behaviours, use target sticks and other target objects, select, handle and deliver rewards well. Successful candidates can use IABTC C&T1 after their name.

IABTC Clicker & Target Training (IABTC /C&T2)

C&T2 looks at your ability to develop your use of the system to work on more complex behaviours & includes: chaining, back chaining, generalisation, shaping without luring, changing cues, transferring targets, fading targets & cues, variable rewards. Successful candidates can use IABTC C&T2 after their name.

IABTC Clicker & Target Training (IABTC /C&T3)

C&T3 looks at the handler's ability to analyse behaviour patterns and the construction of exercises or tests, to use the system to develop behaviour chains of increasing complexity, to reduce complex chains to one cue, free shape complex behaviour chains. Successful candidates can use IABTC C&T3 after their name.

IABTC Instructing Clicker & Target Training (IABTC/Inst. C&T4)

Open to those who have achieved IABTC/IABTC/C&T 1-3 & IABTC Instructor qualification above assistant level. This level looks at the candidate's ability to instruct individuals and small groups in the art and science of clicker & target training. It will include developing your ability to teach others and guide them through the structure of exercises, timing, etc., as above and will require you to demonstrate your assessing skills, to identify if learning is taking place, to develop new exercises and challenges. Making classes interesting, motivational for both dog and handler. Successful candidates can use IABTC Inst. C&T4 after their name

KCAI – C&T covers a range of aspects of Companion Dog Training, Behavioural Training and also follows the same route as the KCAI practical module Clicker and Target Training

Clicker & Target Training - Distance Learning Option

Levels 1-3 cost £85 per level.

This includes electronic versions of your workbook, assessment of your videos and feedback and support from your tutor.

Level 4 – if you feel you are ready for level 4 please contact us to discuss the way forward for you.

IABTC Clicker Training & Awards

How fit is your dog?

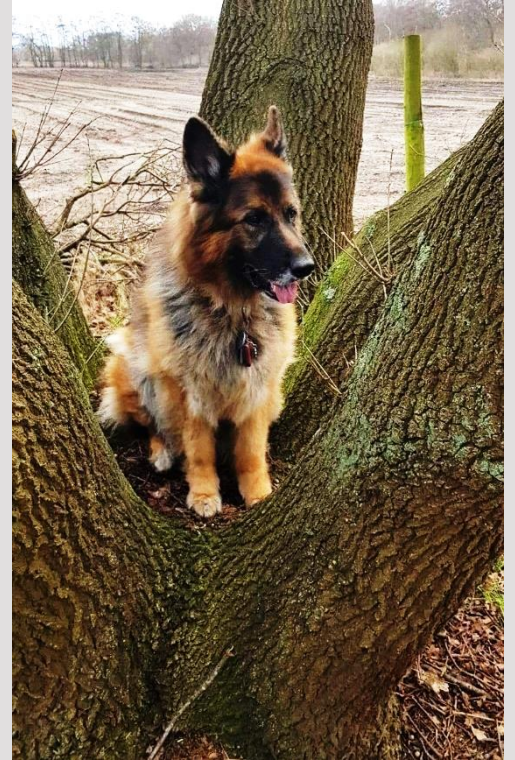

Come to our carefully constructed sessions for Canine FITNESS including HOOPERS, PARKOUR & AGILITY

What is Parkour - Many people will have been doing elements of Parkour without realising – we used to call it part of an interactive walk. It is about using obstacles that you find in the environment. It encompasses jumping, climbing, crawling, balancing and going around.

It is all under full control with H&S a priority and dogs only doing what they are physically and mentally capable of. It helps dogs with confidence, stability, balance and coordination. It helps them to stretch their bodies and minds. It is low impact and yet will challenge all dogs and their handlers.

We have created our own IABTC Parkour challenges and awards and will also help handlers work towards international standards. Some of our Parkour sessions will include agility too. Both Parkour and agility will be suitable for all levels and abilities.

- We will be having regular AGILITY, HOOPERS & PARKOUR sessions often mixing them with fitness and control exercises too.
- We will also be including lots of activity sessions in MDT too.
- It will also be possible to book for a private group or club under the guidance of one of our experienced instructors.

NEW Therapy Support Dogs UK

Many dogs can be trained to provide support to both their owners and others. Providing comfort, confidence and support for those who need and may benefit from it. It is well documented that some people diagnosed with a range of mental health, emotional health and physical problems benefit from interaction or even just the presence of a well-trained dog.

Here at IABTC you can now come along and learn how to train your dog to become a dog that can aid in the therapy of others – friends, family, hospital patients, mental health sufferers, residential home dwellers and more.

We can also help you to train your own assistance dog.

2024 Dog Training Classes / Workshops

THERAPY SUPPORT DOG (BEFRIENDER)

Dogs will learn a high level of general training, socialising and habituation – helping them to easily deal with general day to day life and be relaxed about visiting new places and meeting new people. They will be working towards visiting the elderly or infirm, greeting people on invitation, laying quietly during reading sessions or discussions and being a calm, soothing influence on patients, residents and staff alike.

THERAPY SUPPORT DOG (NEURODIVERSITY)

These dogs will need the skills as above, plus specific tasks to meet the needs of those they are working with. Most commonly but not exclusively those with Autism Spectrum Disorder, Depression, Post Traumatic Stress Disorder, Bipolar, Pathological Demand Avoidance or Sensory Processing Disorder.

They can learn: to walk slightly ahead to show confidence, lean on to create body pressure, move across to create a barrier, and give emotional support, confidence with a passive presence.

THERAPY SUPPORT DOG (OCCUPATIONAL)

Helping patients in occupational therapy or stroke units, for example, these dogs need all the skills of the passive befriender dog, plus specific tasks to aid those needing to improve their mobility or speech in some way. Considerations should be made regarding the size, age and strength of the dog. They will typically learn generalised and controlled: On cue - holding, retrieving, pulling, pushing, placing, paws on/off, to take cues from others, etc.

THERAPY SUPPORT DOG (ASSISTANCE)

We work with you and your dog to achieve the level of control and obedience required for the public access test and taking into consideration all aspects of you and your dog as a team, can help you to train your dog to assist you in relation to your needs. We can also support the training of other organisations to help you to achieve your aims.

Behaviour & Training Problems

Has your dog developed some undesirable habits?
Does your dog misbehave?

We can help you with:

- Pulling on lead
- Jumping Up
- Running Off
- Chasing
- House Training
- Chewing
- Stealing
- Counter surfing
- Barking
- Reactivity
- Hyperactivity
- Antisocial behaviour

Handlers £100.00 for the 2 days or £55 per day.

Spectators £30 per day

Nicci is passionate about all things Canine! From a young age every spare moment was spent walking, training, playing and competing with dogs. Nicci currently shares her life with three Red and white Border Collies and together, they train and compete in Heelwork to Music and agility competitions and also undertake media work. She has qualified for 7 Crufts finals with 3 different dogs and won the Crufts freestyle and Heelwork to Music competitions. In April 2022 she competed with her five-year-old border collie Elsa in Paris for the competition. In 2023 she competed in the FCI world championships in Denmark and became reserve world champion in Freestyle that's 2nd out of 52 competitors, and 7th in HTM. She was part of the amazing team GB – who came an amazing 2nd in Freestyle and 4th in HTM against teams competing from around the world. She came to share her knowledge with an amazing workshop at IABTC earlier in the year so we booked her again. A super instructor sharing a great talent.

Zoopharmacognosy

Using Botanicals to Aid Behaviour Rehabilitation

new dates to follow get your name down.

1 day workshop with Angela White

£50 for the day

Zoopharmacognosy, the term coined by Caroline Ingraham, its founder, is the name given to describe the study of a process used by animals to self-select plants and plant extracts to self-medicate. We have all seen dogs forage for grasses and other plants and only just the right one will do, well we can provide them with an extension of what comes naturally by offering the animal the option to inhale, ingest or rub on to the various natural oils and plant materials know to be therapeutic to some animals if and when they need it. Introduced to this amazing art and science by a Battersea practitioner, Angela has studied with a range of practitioners (including founder Caroline Ingraham) and has been using the aromatic side of the Zoopharmacology for a good number of years for her own animals and those who have been presented to her requiring behavioural rehabilitation.

This workshop comprises of:

- A showcase of successful case studies where Angela has introduced the concept to dogs and their owners (normally in front of behaviour students).
- An Introduction to the botanicals she has used to compliment behaviour rehabilitation
- A practical with a dog that has anxiety and or fear-related behaviours

This is not a quick fix, but it can give the most awe-inspiring results.

Want to be a dog training instructor or behaviourist?

IABTC Pathway One – Just Starting Out

Just Starting? Have little or no Professional experience?

Here's how to start....

In College: Introduction to Canine Behaviour

followed by Units 1, 2, 3 & 4, for instructors and the additional 5-8 for behaviourists.

Distance Learning: How Dogs Learn, Evolution & Breeds, Essential Solutions for Everyday Problems. For instructors and for behaviourists study the additional introduction and intermediate behaviour modification. Unit 4 and 8 can only be done in college.

Plus additional practical courses

E.G IABTC Clicker and Target Training, TTouch, Master Dog Training (MDT) Trainer Award, Heelwork to Music, Treibball, Carting, Rally Obedience, Agility, Hoopers, Tricks, Competitive Obedience and more.

To gain IABTC Approved Instructor awards you will need to attend and successfully pass the assessment on the Instructing Pet Owners Course (Unit 4) on at least one occasion.

The Instructor course has 3 levels: Assistant, Instructor and Advanced Instructor.

Most people starting out gain Assistant to start and work their way up over time and with experience. IABTC also has approved Clicker & Target Training Instructors. For this, you need to work through C&T awards 1-4.

Each one offers its own award and title.

Gaining hands-on experience: You will need to train your own dog (or borrow one).

It is not good practice to attempt to teach anything you have not done yourself.

Therefore, training your dog up to and beyond the level that you are teaching is of paramount importance. You can do this by attending our regular training sessions in a range of disciplines.

IABTC Pathway Two- Already have some experience/knowledge/qualifications?

Attend unit 4. This will enable us to assess where you are at and what you need to do. On this course, we give detailed individual feedback to each participant and this will include suggestions as to how to proceed.

At IABTC we cover the whole range of knowledge and practical experience you need to become a quality professional instructor and or behaviourist. You need to look at the topics below and decide if you are at the level where if you were asked about these aspects by a client, you would have no hesitation in answering at a good general knowledge level as an instructor and a more in-depth level as a behaviourist.

The Topics: If you are giving advice, you need to look at things from all angles e.g. breed, health, welfare, antecedents, brain activity, neural pathways, homeostasis, drives, motivations, psychopharmacology, owner ability, training, behaviour and more.

Do you have practical experience at the very least to the level you wish to teach?

- if not, you need to address this.

Join the KCAI Scheme - As a Preferred Educational Provider for KCAI, IABTC courses will provide excellent evidence for this which also offers a City and Guilds validated award. We will help you to gain the qualification by showing you exactly where our courses fit and giving individual support to help you through.

Gaining More experience: If you have not already done so you need to gain experience over a range of dogs. This can be achieved by helping out at a rescue or similar.

Higher-level experience - this can be gained by taking your own dog to a higher level of training. Pick any discipline that has levels and targets. If you have achieved them all in one discipline, then go on to another. The more you do the more your dog will teach you!! If you don't have a dog, then borrow one
